Enhance Your Convention Experience, Free With Aira

Aira is free to use at the 2019 American Council of the Blind Conference and Convention. Want to use Aira to navigate the airport? Free. What about to explore the hotel? Also free. And getting a vivid description of exhibit hall booths? You bet it's free. So, get the most out of your convention experience by setting up your free account in advance at aira.io/app. That way you can start using free Aira Access as soon as you get to the airport. Did we mention the app is free too? Because it is.

By connecting users to highly-trained agents equipped with an AI-powered dashboard, Aira delivers objective visual information on your terms, and on your time. All you need is a smartphone to download the Aira app and use the service. We're unlocking new efficiencies and insights in education, employment, and the economy. Join our sessions to learn all about it. Meet the Aira Team at our booth in person – and bring a friend to learn about our referral program!
